

PHARMACY PRACTICE WORKSHOP: Collaborative Agreements: Putting Them into Action

Saturday, December 7, 2013

9:00 am - 2:00 pm

Continuing Education Program
Advocates for Youth

Location: Chauncey Cooper Hall, Room 207, School of Pharmacy, Howard University, 4th and College Streets, NW, Washington, DC 20059

Who should attend: The program is designed for pharmacists and pharmacy students caring for clients in the District of Columbia.

Needs Statement: A 2011 report to the Surgeon General, Improving Patient and Health Outcomes through Advanced Pharmacy Practice, demonstrates through evidence-based outcomes, that many expanded pharmacy practice models (collaborative practice agreements) improve patient and health system outcomes and optimize primary care access and delivery.

Statement of Goal: To provide participants with an understanding of collaborative practice agreements, guidance on how to initiative collaborative practice agreements in pharmacy practice, and an overview of how to design a youth-friendly pharmacy environment.

Activity Type: Knowledge

Objectives: After completing the program, participants should be able to:

- (a) Describe the history of collaborative agreements
- (b) Explain the rationale for collaborative agreements
- (c) Demonstrate how collaborative agreements can improve patient health
- (d) Discuss how collaborative agreements can help to coordinate care
- (e) Prepare to initiate collaborative agreements in your pharmacy practice
